"We shall always place education side
by side with instruction;
the mind will not be cultivated
at the expense of the heart."

- Blessed Father Basil Moreau, C.S.C.
Dear Friends,

As I reflect on this past fiscal year, I am overwhelmed with gratitude. It has been a banner year at the Academy. Our campus has been transformed before our eyes. Soon, we will open the doors of our much-anticipated new theater building – The Lorraine and Bill Dodero Center for Performing Arts. This incredible new building stands ready to welcome scores of current and future students for the transformational impact that arts programming provides.

This summer, we replaced the track and turf in Weber Stadium and our fall sports teams loved their new home!

We are also transforming the educational experience of our students through innovative new programming. Our nature-based learning program is up and running, complete with chickens and bees, an outdoor classroom and giving gardens, a greenhouse, and more still to come.

Thanks to funding for an internal roadway/campus loop, our Lower, Middle and Upper Schools are more connected than ever.

We now have an endowed wellness chair and are designing curriculum to ensure that the physical, mental and spiritual health of our students is incorporated into everything we do.

Our Upper School had extensive renovations over the last months with a much-needed update of our Commons as well as carpeting and painting in the classroom buildings. And during Spring Break, our library will undergo a transformation into a true learning commons.

Finally, we have tweaked our calendar to include a spiraling schedule and a 90-minute daily community block for enhanced student engagement in extracurriculars, experiential learning opportunities, academic enrichment and wellness activities.

Any one of these initiatives would greatly impact the experience of our students. We are lucky enough to incorporate them all. Of course, these would still just be items on our wish list if not for your incredible generosity. Your loyalty to our school leaves me awestruck and I am so grateful.

You are truly transforming lives and shaping the future of this school we love, and the future is bright thanks to you!

May God bless you and all you love,

Kathleen C. Kenny
Head of School
“Holy Cross will grow like a mighty tree and constantly shoot forth new limbs whose branches will produce yet others, and all nourished from the same sap and endowed with the same life.”

- Blessed Father Basil Moreau, C.S.C., Circular Letter 65
Dear Friends,

"Change" is defined as making the form, nature, content, future course, etc. of something different from what it is or from what it would be if left alone. We are all familiar with the Transformers movies in which vehicles change into robots; with cocooned caterpillars that emerge as beautiful butterflies; and with green leaves that become brilliant yellows, oranges and reds.

The business world has two buzz phrases applicable to change. The first is “continuous improvement,” which involves sustainable, predictable efforts to incrementally improve operations little by little over time. The second is “disruptive innovation,” which refers to a new development that dramatically – and seemingly overnight – changes the way an organization, industry and/or market functions.

Gilmour has always sought to continuously improve, day by day and year over year, the many facets of its operations and, most importantly, the way it impacts and hopefully improves the lives of our students and families. But there have also been a few disruptive, transformational moments in time for Gilmour since its founding. We are experiencing one such moment currently.

Students and faculty returned this year to a campus that has been physically transformed in so many ways – bee hives, chickens and gardens at the Lower School; the Center for Performing Arts; and the new track and field to name but a few. They also returned to a new, rotating academic schedule and a community block that together change both the flow and rhythm of the school day and how students learn in today’s day and age.

I am sincerely thankful for the blessing of visionary gifts, which change where and how Gilmour educates, which, in turn, transforms lives.

LEADERSHIP GIVING

“...in union there is strength, and a kingdom divided against itself cannot stand.”

- Blessed Father Basil Moreau, C.S.C., Circular Letter 65

For the past 73 years, Gilmour Academy has had many generous contributors to the school who have had such a positive and lasting impact on our students, programs and campus. The generosity of the individuals, businesses and foundations listed here has had a ripple effect and allowed for many students to attend the Academy who otherwise might not have been able, plus has provided for state-of-the-art facilities and the highest caliber faculty to prepare and inspire them. This section lists donors who have supported the Academy with total giving of $25,000 or more in the last three decades.

HOLY CROSS LEGACY SOCIETY REMEMBRANCE

If Gilmour Academy promotes active learning for its students, its alumni embody this ideal long after they leave school. A shining example of this is seen in the legacy of Oliver Seikel ’55. Those who knew him describe his life as “the definition of active.” A dedicated scholar, he attended both MIT and the University of Michigan after graduating from Gilmour. His love of learning extended into leisure activities as well; he was an avid cyclist, seasoned traveler and dedicated volunteer. Much of his energy was devoted to Gilmour. As a member of the Board of Trustees, he served on the Academic Affairs Committee, and was a generous participant in capital campaigns.

Mr. Seikel passed away in 2018, but his thoughtful, proactive planning allows Gilmour students to participate in the school’s rich opportunities. A member of Gilmour’s Holy Cross Legacy Society, Mr. Seikel’s estate provided funds for the newly renovated Fabrication Lab, the robotics program, and two scholarships - The Oliver E. Seikel ’55 Scholarship and the Josephine Weaver Seikel Scholarship established in memory of his mother.

“Oliver was passionate about the robotics program and his support through a bequest continues to benefit our students and allows this program to develop and grow,” Director of Institutional Advancement Ray Murphy said. He continued, “His scholarships continue to generate income every year to provide tuition assistance to a student recipient, thus ensuring Oliver’s legacy will live on forever at Gilmour.”
Members of the Holy Cross Legacy Society have notified us of planned gifts to Gilmour Academy from their estates in the form of a charitable trust, bequest, insurance policy, retirement plan beneficiary designation or gift annuity. Members of the Society have demonstrated their commitment to Gilmour’s mission by pledging their support and assurance that Gilmour Academy will experience continuing financial assistance far into the future. Every year, the Holy Cross Legacy Society welcomes new members.

THE GILMOUR FUND

In recognition of the Academy’s most generous donors, Gilmour created the Blue & Gray Society. Members have all contributed at least $2,000 to The Gilmour Fund, our annual giving program, during the 2018-19 fiscal year. Their steadfast support and leadership is a confirmation of their faith in our future and of their belief in the Holy Cross commitment to “educate the mind and the heart” of our students. The membership of the Blue & Gray Society brings together Trustees, alumni, parents, grandparents, alumni parents, friends and faculty and staff members. Together the group contributed $687,918 to The Gilmour Fund, which was 77 percent of the dollars raised for the annual giving program in the 2018-19 fiscal year. Gilmour appreciates the generosity and leadership that the members of the Blue & Gray Society provided for the Academy this past year.

The cornerstone of philanthropy at Gilmour is The Gilmour Fund, our annual giving program, which has the most immediate impact upon our students. Its focus is to raise funds to help contain tuition costs by meeting a greater percentage of the Academy’s operating budget, and to provide need-based tuition assistance to qualified students who otherwise might not be able to afford a Gilmour education. The Gilmour Fund is used to attract and retain distinguished faculty, provide state-of-the art technology, and continue to grow academic and extracurricular programming. Every gift makes a difference and every gift is appreciated.

The following Gilmour and Glen Oak alumni/aes made a donation to The Gilmour Fund between July 1, 2018 and June 30, 2019. We are deeply grateful for their loyal support.

ALUMNI PROFILE

JOHN & ALEXIS WENSTRUP

They’ve given back to Gilmour in every way possible. They hosted the Seattle alumni outreach event, support The Gilmour Fund and recently made a lead donation for a new track as part of the Weber Stadium renovation project.

No matter how you slice it, John and Alexis (Dowidchuk) Wenstrup ’90 have a lasting Gilmour legacy. With myriad worthy causes, what inspires them to give back to Gilmour? A mix of sentiment and appreciation.

“My mom died in 2018,” Alexis says of the woman who never missed a chance to root for her children at a sporting event. “She always wanted her money to benefit Gilmour. She thought the teachers were exceptionally caring. For me, giving to Gilmour is carrying out my mom’s wish.”

Like Alexis, John’s altruism is tied to his mom’s appreciation for Gilmour and his own. “My mom pushed me to go to Gilmour,” he says. “It opened up a brand new world for me, one I didn’t know existed. What’s more, Gilmour is where I met my wife, Alexis, through track.”

It’s all the more meaningful then that the couple, known for their 2-mile prowess, would make a lead gift for the renovated track complex to the school that introduced them to a love for the sport, and for each other. The education they received at Gilmour was exceptional as well.

“There was a closeness between the faculty and students that was personal,” John says. “Teachers like Kathy Kenny, Dorothy Coerdt and John Gale took an interest in our development. There are very few times in my life when I had that level of engagement and mentorship.”

Gilmour parents know that as an independent, Catholic school, Gilmour is unique in its ability to prepare students who thrive. We are grateful for the support of the parents listed here, whose generosity is a testament to their belief in the work we do to educate the mind while empowering the heart of every student.
Many parents plan to support Gilmour financially after their children graduate. David and Becky Heller, whose daughter, Ellie ’19, graduated in May, felt that contributing while Ellie was at Gilmour allowed them to model their family’s deeply held values. “We have taught our children the value of tikkun olam, which is a Jewish concept of helping to repair the world. Our family understands the necessity of giving back,” Becky said.

“We recognize how the support GA receives from its donors directly funds critical initiatives which drive success.”

When choosing a school, the Hellers realized they had many options in the Cleveland area. However, “Gilmour offered Ellie the ability to combine two things that are important to her: a rigorous educational experience coupled with a top-rated girls’ hockey program.” Ellie thrived at Gilmour, not only because of the programming, but also because of the strong culture. Becky reflected, “Gilmour’s commitment to academic excellence while embracing religious differences, promoting tolerance and supporting their students in a nurturing environment were just the combination we were looking for.” The experiences Ellie had at Gilmour have set her up for success as she begins her freshman year at the University of Michigan.

Becky shared her advice for new Gilmour parents: “Take full advantage of what Gilmour has to offer from the minute your child steps on campus,” she said, encouraging parents to volunteer and develop relationships. She continued, “To the extent you have capacity to help the school financially, do so as it helps the school continue to thrive and ensure academic excellence both now and in the future.”

THE GILMOUR FUND
For Jill and Larry Zupon, commitment to Gilmour has become a tradition. All three of their children attended Gilmour, and two of them skated their way to great memories; both of their daughters - McCall ’05 and Annie ’16 - played hockey and continue to play today!

Off the ice, the Zupon children felt an immediate connection to the school, and responded well to the rigorous curriculum. The depth of academic offerings appealed to the Zupons; Jill noted that strong writing instruction as well as an emphasis on the arts inspired her teens.

Beyond this, the Gilmour experience enriched the Zupon children’s social and spiritual lives. Jill notes that her children benefitted from the mentors and teachers who invested in their children’s education. Further, the Holy Cross mission became central to the Zupons’ lives. “We didn’t realize that a Catholic education would have so much to offer our children,” Jill reflected. “They became very service-oriented and extremely spiritual.” She credits Head of School Kathy Kenny and Headmaster Emeritus Br. Robert Lavelle, C.S.C. with creating the school’s safe, supportive and encouraging culture. “The lasting power of these two individuals is remarkable,” she said.

The relationships and results gained through Gilmour fuel the Zupons’ desire to see Gilmour grow. Jill said, “We want to continue to support Kathy Kenny’s efforts to bring on more positive change to the school.”

She continued, “We believe in the mission statement, and how the school conducts its business of raising loving, confident and creatively intelligent individuals!”
Although their children have graduated from the Academy, these alumni parents remain engaged with the Gilmour community. We appreciate their willingness to continue to make the Academy a philanthropic priority with gifts to The Gilmour Fund.

He’s Gilmour’s director of hockey, she’s a counselor in the Lower School. They may have vastly different career paths, but husband and wife Mike and Lindsay Chiellino share a lot more than a last name. Together, they have a strong track record of giving to Gilmour.

The Chiellinos have made it a habit to support The Gilmour Fund every year since their arrival on campus five years ago. Why, as faculty members, do they feel compelled to give back?

“We’ve both worked at private independent schools in the past, so we fully understand the importance of how private schools work,” Mike says. “Specifically, we understand how important The Gilmour Fund is. It’s important for donors to see that the faculty and staff support the school, that we feel we’re doing great things.”

Most importantly, Lindsay says, “As faculty members, we need to practice what we preach. If we’re asking alumni and current families to give to a cause, it’s vital that we’re giving to that cause as well.”

The Chiellinos draw on their personal passions when choosing Gilmour causes to support. The couple have supported the new performing arts center, for example, and athletic causes such as the turf and track renovation in Weber Stadium and the hockey program. The Chiellinos’ son, Nicolas, is attending the Lower School this year, so they feel compelled to support academic programming as well.
We are grateful for the loyal support of our faculty and staff, whose leadership and commitment of their time, talent and treasure to our school and to our students bring to life the “Gilmour experience” each day.

Many thanks to the multitude of volunteers from the Lower School Parents Organization (LSPO), the Men’s Club, the Women’s Club, the Gilmour Academy Alumni Parents Association (GAAPA), those who volunteer with athletic events, the Gilmour Academy Golf Classic in Memory of Charlie Tremont ’70 committee members, Blue & Gray Society event hosts and the Lancer Nation Tour hosts.

Your willingness to give of your time, talent and treasure is what enables us to continue to host the variety of events on and off campus. These events are so important to our community - building and help to create memories that last a lifetime. We could not do it without the countless hours you dedicate.

THANK YOU!

Gilmore Academy’s ability to thrive and to continue to be able to offer new generations of students an excellent education is due, in part, to its many loyal friends who donate their time, talent and financial resources to the Academy and its mission.

WAYS TO INSPIRE
Many generous donors give their time and talent, and contribute directly to the Academy’s success by enhancing our students’ experiences. There are numerous ways to engage in the Gilmore community. You can share your professional experience at the Sophomore Career Day, mentor a senior during their Senior Project, host a student for a semester-long internship, or meet with a student as part of his/her VECTOR experience.

Alumni also volunteer as class agents to strengthen the tie between the Academy and its graduates, which helps increase alumni support for The Gilmour Fund. Additionally, volunteers are encouraged to participate with annual engagement or through fundraising events - the Women’s Club’s Annual Fashion Show; the Lower School’s Christmas Family Gathering; the monthly networking series sponsored by the Men’s Club; the Gilmore Academy Golf Classic in Memory of Charlie Tremont ’70; or many other social, artistic or athletic events on campus. Join others by being active participants - in the end you will make Gilmore an even stronger and more vibrant community.

GIFTS OF PHILANTHROPY
THE GILMOUR FUND - The cornerstone of philanthropy is The Gilmour Fund, our annual giving program, which has the most immediate impact upon our students. Its focus is to raise funds to help contain tuition costs by meeting a greater percentage of the Academy’s operating budget, and to provide need-based tuition assistance to deserving students who otherwise might not be able to afford a Gilmore education. The Gilmour Fund is used to attract and retain distinguished faculty, provide state-of-the-art technology and continue to grow academic and extracurricular programming. Every gift makes a difference and every gift is appreciated.

PLANNED GIFTS
Making arrangements today for a future gift to benefit the Academy is a thoughtful gesture that expresses your faith in our future. Planned giving can provide valuable tax benefits for the donor and provides Gilmore with substantial, meaningful gifts. The following are a few ways to make planned gifts:

BEQUESTS - Through your will or living trust, you can provide a legacy for causes that were an important part of your life. A will allows the donor to maintain complete control of assets during his or her lifetime with the knowledge that those assets will be distributed in accordance with the donor’s plan and enacted upon death.

RETIREMENT PLAN - A tax-efficient, flexible and low-cost option is to include Gilmore Academy in your retirement plan by naming the school as a beneficiary to a portion of your 401(k), 403(b) or IRA. In most cases there is no cost associated with adding or changing a beneficiary to a retirement plan.

CHARITABLE LEAD TRUSTS - A Charitable Lead Trust provides current income to Gilmore Academy for a fixed period of time. The assets of the trust are then returned to the donor or the donor’s designee. Properly structured, a CLT will allow assets to pass tax-free from one generation of a family to another.

LIFE INSURANCE - A gift of insurance that names Gilmore Academy as the irrevocable beneficiary provides a tax deduction equal to the replacement value of the policy. If you continue to make premium payments on the policy, those also are tax-deductible.

GIFTS-IN-KIND - The Academy also welcomes donations of goods and/or services for which Gilmore would otherwise have to pay.

RESTRICTED GIFTS - The Restricted Gifts category includes contributions that a donor has designated for specific projects or programs such as endowed and restricted scholarship funds.

If you are interested in donating to the Academy, you can always donate by check or credit card, but can also give stocks and/or utilize your company’s matching gift program. To learn more, please call Director of Institutional Advancement Ray Murphy at (440) 473–8089.

PHILANTHROPIC OPPORTUNITIES
Thank you to all the members of our Gilmour Family who so loyally support the Academy. You are the reason our students are receiving a truly transformational education.
