The majority of our tutors are Jemicy teachers, skilled and trained in various multisensory reading programs approved by the International Dyslexia Association. In addition, Jemicy employs mature, creative camp counselors, many of whom are Jemicy alumni, to work with the campers during recreational activities.

Goals

- Reinforce skills and minimize summer learning loss by providing structured, multisensory skills instruction and tutoring tailored to each child’s needs.
- Offer engaging and enjoyable social activities and adventures.
- Build self-esteem and promote individual growth.

Program Overview

Camp Jemicy, a co-ed day camp for students ages 6-14, is run by Jemicy School, a leader in the education of children with dyslexia or other related language-based learning differences. The camp offers daily skills instruction and learning as well as fun recreational activities and adventures, as well as an educational camp experience.
